RIDERS READY FOR RACES TODAY

Weather Man Holds Out Hope and Indications Point to a Meeting Replete With Exciting Contests

Cloudy is the prediction of the prophet in regard to the weather today. That sounds better than rain, snow or wind to the hundreds who have been waiting for two weeks or more for the big race meet announced to take place at the State Fair grounds this afternoon. Indications at an early hour this morning are that even the weather man has made a mistake and an ideal racing day is looked for. It is hoped so, at least, for the many contestants have worked hard, trained faithfully and want to see the races a success. Young McDonald, who will ride against Knox in the match race, is expected here this morning. Other Californians are also expected.

The big meet will begin promptly at 1:30 o'clock and the balance of the afternoon will be taken up with racing, some of which promises to be the best held in Reno in recent years.

FEAR GIVES WAY TO CONFIDENCE; DANGER PASSES

People of Tonopah Are Now at Work Cleaning Up Their City and Camp Will Soon be Ready to Again Receive Fortune Seekers

(By Dr. A. H. Heppner, Journal's Special Physician to Tonopah)
TODAY, APRIL 15, 8:15 P. M.—THE NEARER I GET TO TONOPAH THE MORE I HEAR FAVORABLY AS TO THE CONDITIONS THERE, BUT I WILL NOT VENTURE EVEN A PROPHECY NOW AND WILL NOT DEPEND UPON ANYTHING BUT WHAT I CAN VERIFY TO MY OWN SATISFACTION.

Special to The Journal.
TONOPAH, April 15 (1 a. m.)—There has been but one death here during the past two days. There is no cause for alarm. The citizens and physicians are at work, Tonopah is being thoroughly cleaned and confidence is restored. Ninety-six people came in tonight and only forty out-going tickets were sold. This in brief tells the whole story of Tonopah at this hour. There is no danger of death and it is time the people should know it.

DR. HEPPNER ARRIVES IN TONOPAH.

Dr. A. H. Heppner, special physician to Tonopah for The Journal, started on his journey into the bonanza camp yesterday morning, the first one in the county who will attempt to find for the outside world the cause of the sickness at Tonopah and its nature. He arrived there late last night and will lose no time in forwarding his report.

The Journal is not sending Dr. Heppner into the camp because it believes the physicians there are incapable of handling the epidemic, but to assist them in every way and at the same time prepare a report that will give the people of the outside world an opportunity to know the facts.

The doctor is to be congratulated on the noble stand he took in accepting this important mission. It involves many sacrifices, among them the temporary giving up of his immense practice in Reno. The doctor is one of the best physicians in Reno and The Journal is proud to announce his acceptance of its offer, for through him this paper's readers will learn the true conditions.

TONOPAH CLEANING HOUSE.

Stories from Tonopah came out thick and fast yesterday and conflicting as many of them are, they all go to show that Tonopah has made a mistake, that the people in their mad rush for gold, have violated the laws of God and that they did not realize their mistake until the work of nature began to show. Now, the truth has dawned on them, for the time being the worshippers of Mammon have been brought to their senses and if a mistake has been made it is now being rectified. Tonopah, from top to bottom, is being cleaned. Places where the carcasses of dogs and horses and cows have been decaying are being fumigated, the purified matter is being carted off and Tonopah is being made—as its location justifies—one of the healthiest cities in the state. The committee has lost no time in getting down to work. The camp, within a few days, will be clean and the lesson of the past few weeks is one that will cause the officials to enforce to the letter the sanitary laws.

THERE IS NO DANGER.
There is no danger now; that much is admitted by every one, but old-time residents ask the anxious outsiders now waiting to go in to put off for a few days, give the authorities time to put on their "new clothes," as it were, and then everybody can go and be assured of being greeted by a clean bill of health.

FILTH CAUSED SICKNESS.
That filth caused the sickness everyone who came from Tonopah yesterday admits. Practically no attention was paid to sanitary conditions and filth was piled in every alley and even on some of the streets of the city. The natural result was sickness. Now, however, the committee is working and in a few days at the most the cause will be removed and health restored.

WIVES OF PACKERS FURNISH EVIDENCE

CHICAGO, April 15—Two Chicago women are said to furnish a link in the chain of evidence which the government is trying to forge around the packers. They are Mrs. Irving Vant, wife of the assistant secretary of Swift & Co., and Mrs. Richard Howes, wife of the head of the casing department of Swift & Co. The husband of each woman is in Canada. It is said that the government will seek to prove from the testimony of the wives that their husbands are in Canada at the instigation of the legal advisers of the packing companies. Both the women left for Canada before the grand jury convened and returned four days ago.

W. B. Snodgrass of Winnemucca, who has just returned from Tonopah, admits this much and advises people to remain away until the good work now under way is completed.

ADVISED TO STAY AWAY.

J. L. Lorentzen, who is perhaps one of the best posted men on conditions in Tonopah, and who is at present in Reno, advises people to remain away for a short time. Charles Cole, a prominent business man of the camp, also advises people to keep out.

"This advice is not given to intimidate anyone or to give out the impression that an epidemic is raging in the camp," said Mr. Cole last evening. "Of course there is sickness there and we have never attempted to deny it, but we do object to having it published that people are dying like sheep. Tonopah is now cleaning up. In order that the work may not be interfered with it is best that people postpone their journey for a short time and then they can go in with the assurance made doubly certain that no sickness prevails."

MRS. GLOVER'S OPINION.

Fred Glover, the manager of the George Winfield gambling house of Tonopah, arrived last night, with his wife, from Tonopah.

Mr. Glover could not be found, but Mrs. Glover was seen and expressed herself very reluctantly upon the question of the disease, as follows:

"There is unquestionably great sickness in Tonopah; how many a day I do not know. There certainly has been a very great deal of some illness there, but it seems not to be growing. The train Mr. Glover and I came on was packed, not a vacant seat in the car we were in. See Mr. Glover; he will tell you all about it. We were coming away from there on the 1st, but decided to come now."

BY A TONOPAH BUSINESS MAN.

A gentleman prominent in mining interests in Tonopah, and for that reason refusing to give his name, but which The Journal knows, was seen last night. He has been there for some time, and claims to know the exact condition. He said: "I know many of the business men of Tonopah would leave there if they could, but they have no one to take charge and they are afraid the stock will be stolen if they left them in charge of no one. It is a fact that one of these business men, prominent in the affairs of Tonopah, actually cried, 'I wish I was able to get away, but I cannot leave my business.' I have and shall continue to advise my friends not to go down there for ten days, any way."

"I understand that Dr. Heppner, the surgeon sent down by The Journal, stands among the highest medical authorities in the west. However, I do not know him personally."

This gentleman, whose veracity should not be called into question, spoke guardedly yet freely, saying that the facts should certainly be made public, even though it will work a hardship to the city there.

BY MR. DRUM.

A. Drum, a painter of Los Angeles, arrived last night. He said:

"I am glad to get out of the town. There were too many dying there to make it comfortable for anyone who had a family depending upon him, to stay and take the chances. Most of the victims are hastily buried at night, though a judge who died had quite a big funeral in the day time. The train was full, and I had to go through one car to get one of the few remaining seats in another car."

MARRIED FEW DAYS THEN BECOMES THIEF

PASADENA, April 15—John Hendricks and Charles Malchow, members of a prominent plumbing firm, were arrested here today, charged with burglary. Their shop was raided and about $200 worth of plumbing supplies, property, mostly identified stolen property, was secured. Hendricks confessed that they robbed the other plumbers of material. The latter is but 20 years of age and married but a few days ago.

Rain Damaged Track and Prevented Breaking Records, but Great Field Day Made Some Surprises.

CHICAGO, April 15—With the employers and the union officials in a deadlock Mayor Dunne has abandoned all peace conferences, but announced that he is still determined to find a solution of the labor difficulty.

Employing tailors informed the Mayor that under no circumstances will they concede from their position and will not renege the strikers who walked out four months ago. If they apply for their old positions there will be no discrimination against them, but they will not be recognized as former employees.

The garment workers and teamsters informed the Mayor they would not call off the strike unless the striking garment workers were given their positions. Both sides declare they will not give way and the outlook is for an indefinite continuation of the strike.

CARRIE IS GOING TO LECTURE

TOPEKA, Kas., April 15—Mrs. Carrie Nation closed a deal involving the sale of some Topeka property and left today for Chicago to spend a few weeks in a publishing house. From Chicago she will go to Alabama on a lecture tour for two weeks. Shawnee, Oklahoma, will be her future home.

Quick Service

The Western Union Telegraph Company rendered good service Friday night. A message amounting to nearly 1000 words was sent from Reno to the Oregonian at Portland, Oregon, within twenty minutes after being filed in the Reno office. The message went direct to the Oregonian office, a loop wire being arranged with San Francisco, making the route of the message cover in the neighborhood of 700 miles.

Out From Tonopah

William Parker, formerly with the Western Union in Reno, but later with the same company at Tonopah, came out from the camp yesterday, having resigned his position. He is on his way to San Francisco and is accompanied by Bert Pelkey, also of Tonopah, who is ill.

HANDSOME BUSINESS BLOCK FOR RENO

Another handsome business block is to be added to the many now in Reno. L. Avanzino, one of the city's most enterprising citizens, is having the new building erected. It is located on the east side of Center street, just north of Second. It will be three stories in height and modern in every particular. The foundation is now being put in and no time will be lost in completing the building. This is practically the first of the big building boom in store for Reno during the next few months.

Lone Jap Buried in Reno

J. G. Takami, the Japanese who died here of dysentery on Friday, among his native friends, was buried yesterday at 2 o'clock.

Reinhart had charge of the obsequies. The deceased being a convert to Christianity, the Christian service was used. There was no Japanese rites in the service. Interment was at Hillside cemetery and his fellow Japs, in a spirit of fraternity, gave him a decent burial.

Cutting Down a Hill

Superintendent of Streets Douglas, under direction of City Engineer Stewart, yesterday placed a force of men at work grading Ralston street, between Maple and Eighth. The work is being done at the suggestion of Councilman Wilson. For some time residents have complained of the unnecessary grade there and it has been decided to materially cut down the hill.

The Third Degree

George Oliver, of the firm of Perkins, Oliver & Gilling, is confined to his home. He is suffering from an attack of la grippe.

BERKELEY, April 15—The University of California won the annual field day from Stanford by a score of 73 1-2 to 49 2-3. William Sperry, the second-year man of the State University, proved himself a hero by capturing first place in the hammer throw and shot put, and second place in the high jump and broad jump, winning fifteen points for his team. Besides being a clever track athlete, he is a football player of ability.

Miller of Stanford and Snedigar of California carried off the next honor, each winning eleven points. Snedigar won the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash and Miller took the first honors in the mile run and 440-yard dash. A heavy rain fell before noon and made the track sloppy and the field muddy, consequently no records were broken.

Young Pugilists Discharged

Fred Young, Roy Williams and Gerald Kincart, the fighting boys, were before Judge Nash yesterday to stand their trial.

After a good practical talk from District Attorney Craig and his honor, the irrepressible "kids" were dismissed. Porteus' mother was very much distressed, lamenting the whole affair, considered that as the trial would result in a conviction, a sentence to jail was not justified by the actions of the youngsters.

A Good Showing

During the twenty-two months Police Judge Richardson has held office he has collected $12,544.65 in fines. Of this sum $2530 was collected from persons convicted of nuisances. In that time he has sentenced offenders to jail. They have worked on the streets, performing in all 6000 days' work. This is a better showing than has been made in Reno in ten years.

Experiment Station Commissioners

Colonel H. B. Maxson says that the Commissioners of the Nevada experiment station, recently appointed by Governor Sparks, will hold the initial session of the board on May 4th, and proceed immediately to the southeast section of the state, where operations will begin. Colonel Maxson is a valued member of the commission.

SENATOR NEWLANDS' VIEWS ON SAN DOMINGO QUESTION

Believes it Involves a Great National Policy that May Ultimately Result in Making the Monroe Doctrine an Excuse for Foreign Conquest and Oppression

SENATOR NEWLANDS is detained in Washington by the work of the Interstate Commerce Committee of the Senate of which he is a member. The Committee will commence its hearings on April 17, and will continue them until about the first of June, although there is some intimation that hearings will be had in the various cities throughout the country during the summer months.

Senator and Mrs. Newlands have also been invited by Secretary Taft to accompany him on a trip to the Philippine Islands. The party will start July 1st, and return October 1st. Mr. Newlands has accepted the invitation conditioned upon its not interfering with his duties upon the Interstate Commerce Committee of the Senate. There is a growing feeling even in the Republican party that the acquisition of the Philippines was not a desirable one. It is probable that important action will take place regarding them within the next few years, and it is necessary for one to have a full knowledge of Philippine affairs in order to deal with the situation when it shall arise.

The New York Herald and other papers contain an interview with Senator Newlands regarding San Domingo, in the consideration of which he recently took an active part.

We publish herewith the interview in full:

THE SAN DOMINGO QUESTION
I regard the so-called modus vivendi as an improvement on the indefensible action of the President in taking charge of foreign custom houses under an unratified, arbitrary agreement which, like the pending protocol, should have been submitted to the Senate before action was taken under it.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION
The San Domingo question is an important one and opens up the whole question of the future relations of the Islands of the Caribbean Sea to this country. It is unfortunate that it should be brought to the consideration of the Senate at a time when the whole policy of the administration indicated its purpose, through the proposed general arbitration treaty and the arbitrary agreement with San Domingo, to escape the restraint imposed by the constitution upon the treaty-making power of the executive by requiring the participation of two-thirds of the Senate. It is to be hoped that the administration will hereafter recognize the fact that the very purpose of the framers of our constitution was to keep the United States out of foreign complications by placing the power to declare war in Congress and making the Senate share with the President the treaty-making power. The Senate is entitled to the fullest information on this subject and will not act until it is secured. Doubtless the inquiries instituted by the President will aid our deliberations when we meet again.

NATIONAL POLICY INVOLVED
This is not the ordinary case of treaty consideration involving secrecy regarding the communications of and correspondence with a foreign government, but it involves a great national policy, which should be discussed in the open. Its consideration should be shared by the people and the press, and the Senate should have their aid in arriving at a final conclusion.

When the President first declared his views regarding our duty to civilization under the Monroe Doctrine, I was quite sympathetic, as I had entertained for a long time similar views and had so expressed myself eight years ago in the House debates, when we were considering the Cuban question.

I then declared that the Monroe Doctrine, asserted primarily as a matter of self defense to this country, involved the protection of American republics against foreign aggression, and that the corresponding duty devolved upon us of seeing to it that it was not used by the South American republics to protect them in truculence, dishonesty, disorder or disregard of their duties to civilization, and that if it was necessary we would be justified in armed intervention commanding order and good government.

But since then we have made much history and I am not so sure that these views, while based upon strong moral considerations, are practicable, unless we conclude to give all our time to external matters.

PERVERSION OF MONROE DOCTRINE.

Our experience in Cuba, the Philippines and Panama have led me to fear that however beneficent our purpose might be in the beginning, we would be drifted, either by circumstance, self-interest or desire for military glory, into a policy which we would have repudiated at the start.

We intervened in Cuba, but the war which was commenced to free that island from intolerable cruelty ended in a war of subjection and conquest in the Philippines.

So also in Panama, having secured from Columbia a mere right of way under a treaty which recognized Columbia's sovereignty and which bound us to protect her title against all foreign aggression, we sought to enlarge this right of way then represented by a railroad into a ship canal, with control over the Canal Zone. Columbia differed with us as to the consideration and terms of the treaty, and in the twinkling of an eye the United States, by a display of force, secured the segregation of the Isthmus from Columbia. Thus the United States, enjoying at first a limited contractual possession subject to Columbia's sovereignty, and obligating us to protect her title against the world, obtained absolute dominion over it, and the science of the United States approved of a perfidy the very suggestion of which would have been indignantly repudiated when possession was first acquired.

DANGEROUS PRECEDENTS
This experience might well make the most ardent advocate of the dominance of the United States in Pan-American affairs hesitate regarding the innocent possession of the Dominican custom houses as a means of enabling San Domingo to settle with her creditors and relieve herself of bankruptcy. He might well apprehend that possession acquired thus innocently might, by either circumstance or design, be drifted into the claim of absolute dominion over the island.

We have also some illustration of the extent to which this new power could be applied in the aggressive spirit of Mr. Roosevelt, who, though well-intentioned and patriotic, has, in his desire to accomplish things in which he conscientiously believes, sought to minimize the constitutional power and duty of the Senate, a duty which it can no more abdicate or ignore than the President can his executive functions. It can well be imagined that a President as bold and vigorous as Mr. Roosevelt, but less patriotic and well-intentioned, might involve us in irremediable difficulties.

DOMESTIC LEGISLATION NEGLECTED.

During the past eight years we have been so absorbed in international complications that we have almost neglected domestic legislation. While we have been engaged in conquering other countries, monopoly has conquered our own, and under the leadership of a President whose policy on all matters of domestic reform is as commendable as his foreign aggression is deplorable, we are endeavoring to recover for our own people the ground which we have lost whilst our eyes have been turned towards the horizon of imperial and international grandeur.

These considerations should make us go slow in the declaration of a new policy.

At the same time we should recognize the moral purpose which the President has in view and should seek some safe method of accomplishing it.

SEVERAL POLICIES OUTLINED
So far as I am concerned, I have an open mind and have as yet reached no definite conclusion. There are several policies which we can pursue.

One policy is to declare as part of the Monroe Doctrine that the United States will not recognize the unpaid contractual obligations of an American country to a foreign country as a cause for forcible intervention. This is the policy which we have thus far pursued so far as the claims of American citizens against other governments are concerned. Why should we not insist upon its application to European governments? This policy, however, might mean the continuance and increase of the existing dishonesty, disorder and revolution in the so-called republics to the south of us.

The second course would be for the United States to take the bold stand suggested by President Roosevelt, which would involve a declaration to all American republics that the United States would not tolerate any failure upon their part to respond to the duties of civilization, and if they failed to pay their debts they would be made to pay them, or if they failed to maintain order and good government they would be compelled to maintain them, and that the United States would by armed intervention if necessary, compel honesty, peace and good order. Such a policy might mean constant annoyance, an increase of our military and naval force, an enlargement of our military expenditure and the absorption of our government in extra-territorial affairs, when its attention should be applied to the development of our country and the reform of abuses at home.

POSSIBLE CONTINGENCIES

It is true that in the Dominican case there is no suggestion of force. Our intervention will be a peaceful one, at the solicitation of San Domingo; but as is generally understood, the policy of the President would include forcible as well as peaceable intervention, and the San Domingo treaty is regarded as the first step in carrying out his larger policy. But then, this arrangement contemplates the possession by the United States of Dominican custom houses, and it is to be feared that if the United States government obtains territorial possession, however limited, in San Domingo, our experience with the Philippines and Panama may be renewed. Possibly in protecting the custom-houses, we may be compelled to use force to restore order. Possibly in the end the Dominican people will lean upon us for help and insist that we shall not retire. Possibly our own people may secure large property interests there which will need protection and so every day the task of withdrawal will become harder. And then if, by processes however innocent, the island comes under our control, the race question is to be considered, already so serious in this country—for San Domingo would add 600,000 blacks to our population.

The third policy would be to recognize the right of the European nations whose citizens have claims against the governments of American republics which the latter are unable through misrule or are unwilling through dishonesty to enforce, to move against such recalcitrant republics with all the force that is necessary to secure payment, our government insisting that the force shall be only applied temporarily and shall not result in lasting possession or in the substitution of foreign for domestic government.

MAY BE HARD TO LET GO
The danger in this policy is that it is not always easy to drop a possession once acquired, and that very many good reasons will be found for maintaining it, and that in the end we may have to use as much force in expelling the foreign government as would have been necessary originally in compelling the American country to respond to its obligations.

The fourth policy to pursue would be to have a commission appointed consisting of representatives from the creditor nation and San Domingo. Such a commission could ascertain first what is justly due and second what San Domingo, without unduly burdening the future of her people, could pay. The security might be arranged by placing the collection of customs duties under the control of a citizen of some disinterested power, such as Switzerland, its control to be backed by such force as might be agreed upon by the creditor nations, all the nations stipulating that in no event would permanent territorial occupation be permitted.

The difficulty here is as to whether the American people, with their prejudice against foreign interference with American administration, would tolerate the idea of foreign countries participating in such a receivership. On the other hand, the only alternative is the acceptance of the receivership by the United States government itself, which would probably mean in the end permanent occupation.

PROTECTORATE OVER ISLAND REPUBLICS

There is another view to be taken which involves a comprehensive policy regarding the Caribbean Islands, outside of the French Islands and Jamaica. The United States now holds Porto Rico. It has a protectorate over Cuba, which controls that island in its sanitary arrangements and debt-making capacity, and authorizes our intervention in case of domestic disorder threatening stability of government. We could pursue a policy as these islands that we would not apply to continental republics, the difference in policy being based upon their proximity, their control of the Gulf and of the approach to the Panama Canal. Having the ownership of Porto Rico and a protectorate over Cuba, we could pursue a policy that would extend our protectorate over the San Domingo and Haytian republics if they consent, or if domestic revolutions there make it necessary for us in self interest to intervene. We could commence by incorporating into our treaty with San Domingo all of the essential features of the Platt amendment to the Cuban constitution, securing perhaps a stricter control over all measures affecting the debts, the sanitation and the good order of the country.

NEGRO COLONIZATION
It might be possible later on to adjust the race question in this country by providing for the gradual colonization of the blacks in the United States on these islands, under humane conditions as to individual proprietorship of land and industrial development. Cuba has today only a million and a half of people, and she is capable of supporting fifteen millions. Would it not be to the advantage of both countries if Cuba could absorb our negro population? The population of each country would then be homogeneous and the disaster likely to come to this country from the juxtaposition of the two races would be averted. The blacks in this country are increasing rapidly, and there is danger in the future either of a race war or of the inferior race being subjected to conditions of servitude.

Years ago Henry Clay and others urged colonization in Liberia, but distance made this impossible. But here we have in the Caribbean Sea islands of unsurpassed fertility, admirably adapted to the black race. The expense of removal would be light. The ability to secure individual homes for each family would be within reach. The process of readjustment would necessarily be a gradual one, for the immediate segregation of the black labor of the south would cause industrial disturbance; but if the colonization of the blacks is possible, it could not be accomplished under more favorable conditions.

The President has opened up a wide field of deliberation and it is to be hoped that the matter will receive the candid and non-partisan consideration of the American people and the adaptation of the action of today to a broad and comprehensive policy that will insure the race integrity of the United States and the perpetuity of the Republic. Above all things we should avoid "drifting," the adoption of temporary expedients to meet temporary emergencies. We should, through committee investigation and commission inquiry, get at all the facts, economic and governmental, and by open debate challenge the best thought of the country. The Senate should not have adjourned without organizing the machinery for a careful inquiry during the recess. It is to be hoped that meanwhile the President will cause a thorough investigation of the economic and governmental conditions of the Caribbean Islands to be made and submitted to the public.

GOOD MEN AT HEAD OF MINING COMPANY

DIRECTORATE THAT ADDS STRENGTH TO STOCK

Kawich Properties Will Be Extensively
Worked by New Company and Adds
Confidence to Mining Circles.

The past week has been notable in some respects, though not, in the main, without its counterpart. There has been a general downward tendency in the prices of local stocks, but this has in no way been due to a depreciation in values, but entirely attributable to the presence of a general feeling of uneasiness, verging in many cases towards unreasonable panic. A large number of people have conceived the idea that life is insecure here by reason of disease, and while this belief has for the most part been based upon the merest hearsay, still the fact remains that the heavy travel away from here during the past is wholly responsible for the downward move in prices. This is not a new experience here, as the same thing occurred once before under similar circumstances. Whether this can be regarded in the light of a misfortune or not is, to say the least, debatable.

People leaving here in such large numbers has naturally reduced trading and this has been reflected by the San Francisco exchange. Lower prices naturally follow, but it would be hard to find a reputable broker who would advise his clients against buying almost anything on the market, because all are full of promise, and that the present depression will shortly be followed by a strong upward movement as pronounced as has been the downward one, there is not a shadow of doubt.

Among the new companies recently formed which will presently become a factor in the speculative world, is the Kawich Gold Flat Mining Co. of Nevada, which incorporated last month under the laws of Arizona. The property of this company, consisting of five claims: The Rouse, Mallory, El Capitan, Frasier, and Quickstep, adjoins the property of the Kawich Gold Mining Co. upon which, last January was made the discovery of a ledge so rich, and so extensive that it was at once conceded to be the greatest discovery yet made in a phenomenally rich country. The property of the Kawich Gold Flat Mining Co. lies in such position with respect to the original discovery, that it must inevitably contain the same values.

Aside from the natural advantages peculiar to the properties location, the management of the company is in the hands of one of the strongest directorates imaginable. We contend that this latter condition is indispensable to the success of any mining company, offering its stock to the public. When, as in the case of the Kawich Gold Flat Mining Co. the actual producing property is of a plainly valuable character, and its management in the hands of such men as those whose names appear on the cover of the recently issued prospectus, success is certain.

Jack Davis, president of the company has made a reputation for himself as a mine manager and developer second to none.

A. G. Raycraft, vice-president, is the cashier of the Nye and Ormsby County Bank, whose reputation throughout the state wherein his life has been spent is so well known that comment is unnecessary.

Joseph A. Magill, secretary and fiscal agent is well known as a broker throughout the state.

H. B. Gee, treasurer and member of the board of directors, is cashier of the State Bank and Trust Co. at Tonopah, and a financier who is too well known to need an introduction.

James Nickerson, a member of the board of directors, is the original discoverer of the property, and well known as a practical miner of wide experience.

Judge M. S. Bonfield, the company's attorney and agent, is one of the best known jurists in the state, wherein he has made an enviable record for himself, and of which he was at one time Supreme Justice.

The stock of the company will shortly make its appearance on the San Francisco boards, and we predict a favorable reception for it at the hands of the public.

MINING CLASS BACK FROM VIRGINIA CITY

The class of mines of the University of Nevada, in charge of Professor Young spent all of last week at Virginia City doing practical work. The students returned last evening. They were as follows: W. Stark, F. B. Bradley, H. Bulmer, W. Pope, J. Nesbitt, Cash Smith, Claude Smith, W. Palmer, M. Kelly, W. Pierson, H. Chism and W. O'Neill.

These trips are an annual event with the members of the senior class and because of their practical nature tend much to properly fit the young men for their work.

A fine opportunity for speculation recently presented itself in the rapid changes of West End, and it is a foregone conclusion the stock around seventy cents offers an opportunity for safe speculation seldom equalled. The reason for this is plain. It is now known definitely that the West End has uncovered a fine body of very rich ore, and with its limited stock issue, practically controlled by three men the stock on the market cannot fail of an early strong upward movement.

Although the Midway has, in common with practically all other local stocks, been subject to a slight decline, the fact that it is constantly shipping ore of a high value, and that it is continually uncovering more of the same kind, is sufficient assurance that the present depression is but temporary, and results from causes outside the normal.

Golden Anchor has recently been subject to some rather sensational changes, and a decided bargain at its present price.

Tonopah Con. has been subject to a decline from fourteen to twelve and a quarter, which has been the more noticeable by reason of its late advance.

Jumbo is in an unsettled condition, owing to litigation, and should be let alone pending its settlement.

Sandstorm, around the sixty cent mark is a decided bargain.

Belmont, at its present price is a safe buy. This stock has sold as high as two fifty, and there is little doubt that it will again reach as high a figure.

Goldfield Mining at its present price is also a safe proposition.

As before stated the purchase of almost any of the local stocks at their present price is freely advised, as the late decline is wholly due to profit taking and causes outside the normal, and for that reason this of all times, is the time to buy.

The Greatest Strike Yet Made in Southern Nevada

The KAWICH GOLD MINING COMPANY

Has just placed fifty thousand shares of its stock on the market under circumstances, and at a price which makes it the BEST BUY OF THE YEAR. The property of the KAWICH GOLD FLAT MINING CO. situated in the heart of the rich Kawich district, consists of five claims, approximating ONE HUNDRED ACRES OF THE RICHEST GROUND IN THE DISTRICT. The claims, ROUSE, MALLORY, EL CAPITAN, QUICKSTEP and FRASER were located last January when the strike of the Kawich Gold Mining Co. electrified the state. The ledge discovered at that time surpasses in richness anything thus far uncovered in this richest of all countries, and the FRASER GOLD may be plainly seen in the quartz at a distance of many feet. The ground of the KAWICH GOLD FLAT MINING CO. adjoins the original location, and is in DIRECT LINE WITH THE LEDGE. Enough work has already been done to prove the value of the ground, and it only remains to take out the wealth practically in sight.

THE KAWICH GOLD FLAT MINING CO. incorporated last month under the laws of Arizona, and now offers fifty thousand shares of its stock at the low price of TWENTY CENTS. This offer will apply to only the first fifty thousand shares, WHICH GIVES YOU THE CHANCE OF A LIFETIME.

WORRIED MAN'S PITIFUL LETTER

Unable to Settle Past Troubles and Quit Drink, He Wants to Make Amends but Can't

T. J. Woods, aged about 35 years, the man who attempted suicide on Thursday, was yesterday taken from the county hospital to the court house. His mental condition was the subject of investigation and it took but a few minutes for the board to declare his mind unsound. He was immediately thereafter ordered to the asylum.

Woods' case is a particularly unfortunate one and the poor man is the subject of much compassion. He has evidently gone through so much anguish from the effects of liquor or other cause that his mind was overtaxed.

In his desperation he made a shocking attempt to suicide on the tracks near the subway. There were scores of people at hand, as it was in the early afternoon.

At the hospital yesterday he suddenly began to cry out in terrible fear of some supposed man who was after him, and it took three attendants to quiet him.

Woods is at least temporarily a mental wreck and is a pitiful sight. During the examination at the sheriff's office yesterday he had a recurrence of his startling hallucination. He has gone through some particular experience from which he has suffered mentally, the name of a Mr. Yeager of Bakersfield being perhaps directly connected with it. A letter found in his pocket, which was possibly penned by the unfortunate man the day he drew the knife, is a pitiful story of a fallen man. It has no date and tells its own sad story:

"Reno—To whom it may concern—Gentlemen: I write this to bring this matter to a close in one way or another. It is the old story of all on account of drink. We were both drunk, but it can't now be helped. If I can rely on this by letting whiskey alone I would like to have the chance to do it. I have some good property in San Francisco, that I think I will get yet. Some I may get out of the Clark R. R. that would pay all the trouble. It is my first offense. I would like to have one more chance in life. We are not all perfect. All have our troubles that they lots of times cause a man to drink. We will settle this what way you say; work it out or any way. The trouble may have been in the Cripple Creek cabin. I don't know—it was over three years ago. Will meet you at any place you say, so drop a note in front of me so I will know and can settle this trouble. Yours very respectfully,

"T. J. WOODS,

"P. S.—I stay in town till I hear from you."

BISHOP POTTER says that "Jeffersonian simplicity" really means "Jeffersonian vulgarity." It is a vulgarity of which his lordship will never be capable for it closely resembles the way of Jesus Christ, a person of whom his lordship probably wants to hear as little as possible, as not having been a member of the "Four Hundred" of Jerusalem in the days when He taught simplicity of life and purity of heart the vanity of riches and the futility of pomp.

THE LAW'S DELAY

WHEN Hamlet, in enumerating the ills that humanity is heir to, mentioned the law's delay, he spoke of something that is not the least of the troubles of mankind.

In this country, day by day, it grows more and more apparent that the law's delay is intended solely to defeat the ends of justice. It is largely to the law's delay that we may attribute the yearly crop of murders that marks our land as one of the most lawless and bloodthirsty on the globe.

San Francisco affords a recent instance. Several months ago an old man named Smith committed a most cowardly and unprovoked, cold-blooded murder. Under the laws and customs of any foreign nation—say England, for instance—he would have been tried and hanged and buried now. Day before yesterday the case came to trial, and the night before the chief witness for the state nearly died of a hemorrhage of the lungs and would not have appeared to testify had he not been a man of great determination, resolved to appear at any personal hazard in order that the ends of justice might be subserved.

Like the Botkin case, the Smith matter will probably drag its weary length through the courts of California for years and years, and finally when all the witnesses are dead the defendant will be released for lack of evidence.

And California is only a specimen of what other states are. It is no better and could hardly be any worse. Great reforms are needed in our methods of procuring justice, but it is probable that before they are inaugurated all the good citizens who desire reforms will be dead—victims of the weapons of the murderous element that now seems to hold unlimited sway in this country.

IT HAPPENED IN RENO

THE editor of the Carson Appeal says that he nearly broke his teeth on a gold nugget while eating eggs in a Reno restaurant, and assumes that the nugget was swallowed by the hen who laid the egg. He does not mention returning the nugget to the restaurant owner, and from what we know of Sam Davis we are inclined to suspect he has it yet.

Such an incident could not occur in a Carson restaurant, where strangers are weighed before and after they eat, and charged in gold for any increase in weight.

COST OF LIVING

It will be remembered that during the last presidential campaign, the Democratic speakers frequently charged that the cost of living had very materially increased in most sections of the country and that wages had not proportionately increased. The statement was vigorously denied by Republican campaigners. They even went so far as to show, through statistics furnished by the bureau of labor and statistics, that the cost of living had actually decreased, while the average wage rate had improved.

Even when the Democrats analyzed the report and demonstrated that it was a tissue of deception, the Republicans insisted that they were right, and many people who had not kept in close touch with the cost of living believed them. Now comes the bureau of labor and statistics with a very different story. There is no longer any necessity for bolstering up a Republican campaign. In a recent bulletin a comparison is made between prices from 1890 to 1900 and 1900 to 1905.

We are now told that the price of hams has increased 12 per cent, salt pork, and bacon 32 per cent, lard 35 per cent, fresh vegetables 13 per cent, corn meal 16 per cent, crackers 19 per cent, beans 31 per cent, herrings 31 per cent and salt 21 per cent, pepper 72 per cent and currants 121 per cent. It will be observed that practically all of these articles figure or should figure in the expenses of men who work for a living. They figure especially in the cost of living for those who work for day wages.

Twelve articles are mentioned in the list just given. The average increase is a little more than 35 per cent. Will anybody pretend that during the period from the 1st of January 1900, wages have been raised by as much as half of 35 per cent? No such pretense can be made, for the facts are too easily obtainable. Wages have not been raised in proportion to increased expenses.

Who are the losers? The workers. The men who toll in shops and factories and offices. The gainers are the men who control the necessities of life.—Salt Lake Herald.

WHAT IS DEMOCRACY? WHO ARE DEMOCRATS?

In an Address at the Jeffersonian Dinner Senator Newlands Gives the Creed and Pronounces President Roosevelt a Democrat

NEW YORK, April 14.—Senator Newlands, of Nevada, was one of the principal speakers at the Waldorf Hotel last evening. The Western statesman took as his subject: WHAT IS DEMOCRACY? WHO ARE DEMOCRATS? AND HAVE WE A DEMOCRATIC PARTY?

These are the questions to be determined before the next National election. Democracy is a faith; not an association. Democrats are those who believe in that faith, not those who are simply enrolled in an organization. The Democratic party should be a homogeneous association of men who intend to put their faith into practice, not of men who make a pretense of faith in order to secure office and spoils. Democratic faith implies equal rights for all and special privileges for none. It implies trust in the people as the source of all power. It prescribes for the evils of Democracy, more Democracy. It teaches the holding of all power close in the hands of the people. It means government near to the people. It means that each county, as to county affairs, shall govern itself, and not be governed by the state; that each state, as to state affairs, shall govern itself, and not be governed by the nation; that the nation, in all matters of the general welfare and defense, entrusted by the constitution to its government, shall govern itself and not surrender the exercise of its power to the states. It means that the will of the people when expressed in constitutions and laws, shall be enforced according to their letter and spirit unaffected by partiality and undisturbed by the changing passions of the hour. It means the highest respect for and obedience to the law, constitutional and statutory. It means a government of law, not of men. It means that the constitutional distribution of powers, national or state, shall be maintained. It means that the powers of government shall be exercised for and dedicated to the benefit and happiness of our own people, and not for the benefit or conquest and subjection of other peoples. It means construction, not destruction. It means peace, not war. It means that our systems of finance, transportation and production shall be framed with a view to the prosperity of the many and not for the advantage of the few. It means that as to all public utilities, national, state or municipal, the government shall either own or control; that if such utilities are entrusted to private enterprise, regard shall be had only for a fair return, not speculative advantage. It means the open door of competition and co-operation, not the closed door of monopoly. It means the protection of the rights of the many, not the interests of the few. It stands against caste, rank, and privilege. It stands for humanity.

Judged by these principles, there are men in the Democratic organization who are not Democrats. Judged by these principles, in most matters relating to domestic legislation, Theodore Roosevelt is a Democrat.

Should all the real Democrats in both parties be united in one organization, they would control the legislation of the country.

In the last campaign the count showed that the Democratic party had lost, but Roosevelt's message showed that Democracy had won. The Democratic party had declared for an immediate assurance to the Philippines of ultimate liberty under American protection. Roosevelt expressed not the assurance but the hope of such liberty. The Democratic party in its platform had declared for many domestic reforms. Roosevelt wrote into his administration platform a demand for these reforms. Democrats, whether in the Democratic or Republican organization, will support this demand, and insure its accomplishment. No mischievous spirit, no more desire to dismember the president's party or to embroil his administration prompts the support by the real Democrats in the Democratic organization of Roosevelt's domestic policy. They do it because it is their duty to support the man to whom Providence has assigned the opportunity of accomplishment. But one man can defeat the accomplishment of Roosevelt's domestic policy, and that is Roosevelt.

Could we during the next four years cut ourselves loose from the external complications which have absorbed us for the last eight years, we would witness the triumphant success of Democracy in all the domestic reforms now pressing upon the attention of the country. And these reforms would be accomplished mainly by the aid of the Democratic organization, standing behind a Republican president of Democratic faith, who will bring to his support all the men of the Republican party of like faith.

The union of Democrats, whether nominally in the Democratic or the Republican organizations, on the irrigation question, accomplished the passage of an act the most important in the history of the last half century; an act broad, comprehensive and enduring, which without other legislation will, within the next fifty years, develop an empire in the region west of the Missouri dedicated to the home seekers and the home-builders on whose sturdy virtues the perpetuity of the republic rests.

The union of Democrats, whether in the Democratic or Republican organization, can, within the next four years, open up the steel highways of the country to the great proportionate and fair use of the entire people. The union of Democrats, whether in the Democratic or Republican organizations, can, within the next four years, so scale the tariff wall as to destroy the monopolies erected under its shelter. The union of Democrats, whether in the Democratic or Republican organizations, can, within the next four years, shape a system of taxation that will bring wealth under proportionate contribution to the expense of the government. The union of Democrats, whether in the Democratic or Republican organizations, can, within the next four years, amend and refer the public land laws so as to preserve the great natural wealth of the country—wealth of coal, of iron, of copper, of lead, of timber, and of land—for the entire people of the United States, including generations yet unborn. Instead of allowing the public wealth to be absorbed and monopolized in this generation by a favored few. The union of Democrats, whether in the Democratic or Republican organizations, can, within the next four years, under Roosevelt's courageous leadership "shackle greed and cunning," eradicate graft and fraud from the public service, and restore the simple ideals of the republic.

All that is necessary to accomplish this is freedom from external complications. For eight years we have been engaged in foreign activities. Starting in the Cuban war for freedom, we ended in the Philippine war for conquest. Having acquired a mere right of way over the Isthmus of Panama by a treaty which guaranteed Colombia's sovereignty and bound us to protect it against the nations of the world, we, in a moment of temptation, wrested by force of arms that sovereignty from Colombia and took it ourselves. We have been engaged in diplomatic negotiations for the open door in China; for reciprocity treaties with Cuba; for the adjustment of the debts of American republics. We have been engaged in instructing American republics in the decencies of international life. We have been engaged in lawmaking for the Philippines and for Porto Rico and for Panama.

Whilst we have been conquering other countries, monopoly has conquered our own. We have time to settle the railroad question in the Philippines; we have not the time to adjust the railroad question in the United States. We have the time to give a moderate tariff to the Philippines; we have not time to correct an excessive tariff in the United States. We can expend vast sums in Cuba, in the Philippines, in Panama, in colonial exploitation and in naval expansion, but we have no money for the internal development of the republic. Our harbors and our waterways are neglected. Our reform legislation rests in committees, and as a result either of favoritism or of neglect in legislation, the greatest plagues in the history of the world have been created, whilst we have kept our eyes strained towards the horizon of imperial and international grandeur.

Will the many-sided Theodore Roosevelt devote himself during the next four years to the Democratic policy of domestic reform indicated by his message, or will he continue to engage in activities external to our country, which will absorb his attention and postpone domestic reform. If the former, Democracy will be triumphant before his administration ends. If, on the other hand, he continues to dazzle our people with startling exhibitions of international pyrotechnics, plutocracy will be as firmly entrenched at the end of his administration as it was at the beginning, and some other Democrat—a Democrat who is not an imperialist abroad, but who is a Democrat abroad as well as at home, will be called upon to lead the destinies of the country. The country demands Democracy—whether under Republican or Democratic administration. Democracy is triumphant now if Roosevelt stands by Democratic faith. If not, four years hence Democracy will gird its loins for another struggle against plutocracy which is strengthening in wealth and power every day and every hour. And its standard-bearer will be the man who for years has been pre-eminent for steadfastness, for courage, for patience under defeat, for faith in the ultimate wisdom and power of the people; the man who has been undeviating, consistent, courageous; the man whose integrity nobody doubts and in whose sincerity everybody believes. The question will be the development of the republic at home. The agency to be employed will be a constructive Democracy, and the leader of this Democracy will be the man who has stood true to its principles amidst all the glamour and illusions of imperial administration.

..Mining Investments..

THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY for achieving fortune ever presented to mine investors is now unfolding in the marvelous district of south western Nevada, comprising Tonopah, Goldfield, Bullfrog, Kawich and Chloride Cliff.

THE RICHNESS of these districts has not been over stated. Scores of fortunes have been made, hundreds will yet be made, while thousands of people who invest with judgment will multiply their investments many fold.

IN A FORMER ADVERTISEMENT we laid down the secret of success in mining as "Knowing in what mine to invest, when to buy, and at what moment to sell." The Outsider, without this knowledge, is taking hazardous chances in buying mining stocks. The Insider, with such information, is operating in the field of mines as certainly as in any pursuit and with many times the profit.

WE ARE MAINTAINING in these districts an efficient bureau of skilled men to ascertain and report first information with respect to what each mine is doing and what not doing, in order that we may anticipate the rise and fall of mine values. Such knowledge, with close attention to the stock board, is what we have to offer as a guarantee to the mine investing public that we can handle your money with more security and profit to you, than you can yourself.

WE ISSUE CERTIFICATES, as shown below, for each hundred dollars sent us for investment, which constitutes a receipt and acknowledgment that your money is intrusted to us only for investment and subject to withdrawal at your option, as expressed therein. The first day of each month we render you an itemized statement of all transactions of the previous month, with a remittance of the month's profits, less fifteen per cent, which is the only compensation we exact. We take no commission from the principal, and the redemption of the principal, whenever called for by our clients, is secured by the stocks and securities we have purchased with it, which are instantly convertible into cash.

SUCH METHOD OF MINING INVESTMENT is new, we admit, but the value of it to the public is evidenced by the multitudes of Outsiders who have lost money in mining investments as against the Insiders who have made fortunes.

WE SHOULD BE GLAD TO RECEIVE a remittance of one hundred dollars, or any multiple of that sum, from you, believing that we can not only safeguard your principal but return you monthly such substantial dividends as will add you to the list of our good friends.

INVESTMENT CERTIFICATE

Tonopah, Nevada, March 1, 1905

This is to Certify that The C.A. Norcross Company of Tonopah, Nevada, has received the sum of One Hundred Dollars in trust for investment of Henry Hudson of No. 407 Vine Street, City of New York.

SAID TRUSTEE HEREBY AGREEING:

We invest said sum with that represented by all other outstanding certificates in such mining, industrial, or other stocks and securities as in its judgment will prove most profitable—accountable only for honest and faithful administration.

We mail on the first day of each month to the holder hereof an itemized statement of all transactions of the previous month. Profit or loss to be computed in said statement by subtracting from the aggregate value of the stocks, securities and cash on hand at the close of business on the last preceding day the par value of all outstanding certificates; the difference to represent the gross profit or loss of the pool. If such difference represent a loss, then said trustee in no wise is to profit; but if said difference represent a gain, then said trustee, for its commission, to take fifteen per centum of such profit, dividing the remainder as an immediate dividend to certificate holders.

This Certificate, the month above written, to share only in the profit or loss according to the proportional part of the month in force.

The C. A. Norcross Company hereby agrees to redeem this certificate at the option of the holder on the first day of the succeeding month after presentation at its par value in Gold Coin plus any profit earned or less any loss sustained the month preceding.

Happy Couple Secure Marriage License But a Cautious Priest Spoils Their Plans

Joseph C. Fratts, aged 31, of Tonopah, and Laura W. Bruce of Sacramento, a young and attractive miss of 19 summers, appeared at the court house yesterday for a marriage license. From there they proceeded to the home of Father Tubman for him to complete the job.

The priest, becoming suspicious, closely questioned the prospective bride and groom, resulting in his finally signing a certificate of their names, but wiring to the bishop of San Francisco about some information as to whether either were ever married before.

The couple are in profound suspense.

JUDGE RICHARDSON FOR POLICE JUDGE

C. A. Richardson, Reno's first police judge, and a man who has filled the position for the past twenty-two months, is seeking re-election. His announcement appears in The Journal this morning.

Judge Richardson's platform this year is his record. He asks the voters to look over the work he has done since assuming office, the manner in which he has done it and then to vote as their judgment dictates. Judge Richardson is an old state. Everyone knows him and those who do are now knowing for his re-election.

FIGHT FOR TWO FEET ENDS IN PURCHASE

Some time ago a building was erected by M. H. Stevens overreaching his boundary line just twenty-four inches. John Corsiglia, upon whose land this encroachment was made, after much trouble over the matter, sued for damages and the value of the two feet.

After more or less litigation, Stevens evidently decided it was cheaper for him to buy the narrow strip, and the deal was consummated yesterday, as seen by the court house records.

EVIDENCE WAS INSUFFICIENT

Marshall and O'Connell, Who Were Caught Breaking Open Freight Cars, Were Discharged Yesterday.

The case of George O'Connell and Raymond Marshall, who were caught by Officer Regan attempting to force an entrance to a boxcar a few nights ago, was taken up in the Justice Court yesterday afternoon.

Attorney Fletcher, for the defendants entered a demurrer on the grounds that the charge was illegal. The men were charged with a misdemeanor and it was claimed that the charge should have been a felony. The demurrer was sustained and as the District Attorney did not consider the evidence sufficient to convict them of felony, they were discharged.

Last night Officer Regan found where some one had broken the seal on a car of oranges. He reports that all freight trains coming from California have cars with seals broken.

Thursday night some person or persons entered the lodging house of E. F. Moore and proceeded to divest some of the rooms of property. Three rooms were entered.

Major Patton was the chief loser. The thieves took a fine Smith and Wesson revolver, which was a present to him and valued at about $20. Another roomer was also relieved of a pistol and watch and a man by the name of Wilson also lost a revolver.

The local officers have been working on the case, but without success. There is no clew as to who committed the robberies. Sheriff Ferrel was notified yesterday and is now working on the case.

MACHINE SHOPS TO BE ENLARGED

Southern Pacific Company Will Increase the Capacity of Its Works in This City.

It was learned yesterday on good authority that the railroad company intends to duplicate the machine and boiler shops at this place and also to build a car shop.

The buildings are to be started in July and will be erected on the piece of vacant ground just east of the transfer table.

The machine and boiler shop are to be constructed of brick, while the car shop will be a frame building. The large machines for engine and boiler repairing will be placed in the new shops and the principal part of the company's work will be done here. This is being done for the reason that the machines which are in the shops at this place are capable of turning out better work than can be done at any of the other machine shops of the system.

The car shops will be used for the purpose of repairing the cars which are smashed up in any wrecks that occur. Cars will also be built new here, particularly the oil cars and oil tanks.

These new buildings will nearly double the capacity of the shops and will increase the population of the city to a large extent.

CANAL LABORER KILLED BY TRAIN

Body of Ed Shannon, Terribly Mangled, Discovered by Brakeman at Parran, East of Sparks.

Ed Shannon, a laborer on the government canal at Derby, was found dead on the railroad track at Parran, sixty-two miles east of Sparks. His lifeless corpse was discovered yesterday morning by a brakeman on the Overland Limited, while the train was standing on the track taking water.

The train crew was summoned immediately and removed the remains of the unfortunate man from the track. A hasty examination showed that both of his legs had been cut off, his skull badly crushed and his bowels lacerated. The condition of his body indicated that he had evidently been killed by some train that had passed by during the night. His body was perfectly cold and the blood from the different wounds had ceased to flow.

The only means of discovering the name of the man was through an identification check which was found in his pockets. The certificate had been issued a short time previous by the foreman on Camp No. 1 of the government works at Derby. A thorough examination resulted in the finding of a purse containing $2.

The coroner of Churchill county was notified of the occurrence and hastened to the scene of the accident, accompanied by his deputy, to hold the inquest. After the inquest has been finished the remains will be taken to Fallon.

SPENT THE EVENING IN MERRY DANCING

A large crowd of merry dancers attended the social given at Robinson's Hall last night by the Good Time Social Club. It was one of the most successful dances of the season and all who attended were delighted with the treatment they received and well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

No effort had been spared by those who had the affair in charge to make the evening's entertainment one of pleasure for their guests. Merrill's orchestra rendered the music for the occasion and its work was all that could have been hoped for. The floor, too, had not been overlooked and was in the best possible condition.

During the evening the ladies of the Fraternal Brotherhood served refreshments for the dancers. They proved to be a very pleasant diversion from the regular routine of dancing.

Progressing Favorably

The immense fence which the Southern Pacific Company is placing around their grounds at Sparks is progressing rapidly. The east and west ends have been boarded and the carpenters are directing their attention to the sides. The fence is constructed of redwood lumber. The amount of land enclosed by the fence is so great that it will not be possible to finish the work for at least a month.

New Railing

Carpenters have been at work the past few days in constructing a railing in the oil room and succeeded in completing their labors yesterday. If any of the employees of the Southern Pacific Company desire oil they must see the person who has charge of the delivery of the oil. The railing was built for the express purpose of denying access to anyone not connected with the company.

CONVENTION IS HARD AT WORK

Nevada State Sunday School Association Begins Fourth Annual Meeting in Reno

The best Sunday school convention ever held in Nevada is now in progress. The convention opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and a magnificent program is carried out at every session. The attendance, too, is better than at any preceding convention.

Specially noteworthy features of yesterday's program were the Bible readings of Rev. Mr. McCreery of Carson and a paper on kindergarten methods by Miss Jamison, an address on Sunday school pedagogy by Dr. R. Adams and the several addresses by the special guests of the convention, Rev. Charles R. Fisher of California and Marlon Lawrence of Toledo, Ohio.

At the evening session the special feature was a brilliant lecture by Marlon Lawrence on sights and impressions of the Jerusalem Sunday school convention last year. This trip and convention the speaker said was one of the remarkable things in modern Sunday school history. The trip was made on a chartered steamer of the German Lloyd line, carrying 817 delegates from New York to Jerusalem. These were met by an English delegation of nearly 500, making a convention of nearly 1500, which met and transacted the world's Sunday school business in the Holy City.

His descriptions of Oriental countries and the spirit and the work of the convention were most vivid and interesting.

This morning the regular services of the churches will be held and this afternoon at 3 o'clock a large mass meeting will be held at the Baptist Church at which Dr. J. E. Stubbs will preside and Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Fisher will speak.

Tonight a great union mass meeting will be held in the Methodist Church. It will consist in a half hour of sacred song, after which Marlon Lawrence will speak on the "World's Sunday School Movement." He is one of the most practical and brilliant speakers that has ever visited this city. You may never have the opportunity of hearing him again.

LAW AND MOTION DAY IN THE COURT

Yesterday was law and motion day in the District Court. On this account the Taylor-Troy Laundry case was continued from Friday to Monday.

In the case of Vensley vs. Shirley, the demurrer was overruled and a motion of defendant to quash the bond was denied.

The case of Corsiglia vs. M. Stevens and Anna Stevens was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff.

A motion for a new trial in the case of Bender vs. Griswold was continued until next Saturday.

THIS GREAT STATE IS GOING TO THE FRONT

WHAT CAPITAL IS DOING FOR NEVADA

Resources Are Being Developed, but the Awakening Only Has Arrived, Says Mr. Musgrove in Able Article.

By Mark W. Musgrove.

While it must be admitted that the greatest mining excitement which the world has ever known is now being evidenced in Reno by the daily arrival of from two hundred to three hundred people, all bound for some point in the southern or south western part of the state, one not conversant with the history of mining would believe that this great influx of mining men, prospectors, business men and laborers, is far in excess of any possible demand, and would deem it impossible for the state of Nevada to long hold or control such vast hordes of people, all of whom are either seeking an investment, the location of mining property, or who desire work in some line of life, and yet if the conditions were exactly understood and appreciated, it may be positively said that the mining, timber and agricultural districts present an ample field to retain and furnish a livelihood for ten times as many people as are daily arriving.

They are coming as the westerners would say, "in carriages" from the north, from the south, from the east and from the west, and while the great rush today appears to be specially directed toward either Tonopah, Goldfield or Bullfrog, there are very many other districts where the surface showing gives great promise for the investment of capital and occupation for labor.

Hardly had the section above noted been exploited, and produced to the world their $15,000,000 within three years, which conclusively proves their phenomenal richness, that we at once hear reports fully as favorable from Keweenaw, the very rich country south of Dyer, Gold Mountain, Silver Peak, the Lida Country, Olinhouse Canyon, and more recently the discoveries reported seventeen miles from Reno, and only a few miles across the mountain from the old Comstock mines and it may be added that hundreds of people have already visited that section and many more now en route with the hope of being very early in the field.

A peculiar feature in the opening up and exploiting of new districts is the fact that the earlier discoveries, however rich and extensive, are often eclipsed by later finds, and this is frequently accomplished by the work of so-called "finder's fees." In other words those who have had no experience in mining.

The advance guard soon finds that the country is generally occupied, and they scatter out and examine other fields with gratifying results. This condition is the experience in the early days of Boise Basin, Florence, Elk City, and the Coeur d'Alene in Idaho. The Yankee Fork district in the same state produced ore, carrying $30,000 a ton in gold, and $1,000 a day was actually panned out in a hand mortar.

Up in the Klondike people thought they had a right to suppose that that country would be over-run by the remarkable rush, but soon after the Alton country, Nome and Tenana had their excitements, and these discoveries were made by those who had originally intended to remain in Klondike.

And to the south of us the great Bodie camp showed in a single stope in the Standard mine a solid vein 30 feet wide, in which there were not half a dozen spaces which you could cover with your finger that was not literally sparkling with free gold. In this case no one supposed for a moment that there was gold elsewhere than Bodie, but the surrounding country offered rich attractions, and many valuable properties were located.

Down in old Pioche millions upon millions of dollars were taken out and it was people from that place who exploited and opened up the great mines in El Dorado canyon; and thus it will be observed that history has repeated itself in all the excitements in the west, and what is still more remarkable, that old camps like the Comstock, which years since were deemed to have seen their best days, yet, with the scientific improvements in securing the values from the ores, and cheap methods of mining, are today being sought after by those who desire a really meritorious and permanent investment.

Among the large enterprises now spoken of, is a smelting plant at Soda-ville for handling the ores of southwestern Nevada; though this proposition is seriously handicapped by the lack of co-operation on the part of the railroad, who decline to give any satisfaction as to freight rates.

And then we have the great reclamation scheme, by which the U. S. government will reclaim two hundred thousand acres of the finest agricultural land, which the sun has ever shone upon, and when it is remembered that hundreds of miles of railroad are being advanced all over the state, it will not be surprising to find that within the next two years, Nevada will take the front rank in the production of gold, silver and lead, and offer farm land for many thousand home seekers. The government has already expended $3,000,000 in this irrigation scheme, and probably $7,000,000 more must be expended before its completion.

Most certainly the prospect was never so bright in the history of any state for large investments and meritorious enterprises.

Railroads are being advanced, our rich mines exploited, manufacturing interests established, electrical plants must be installed, and other business enterprises, incidental to the above, will necessarily follow, and not the least of which will be a 1000-ton smelter at Reno.

Now don't gasp for breath at this assertion, because it is a fact beyond question, and is as necessary to the mining interests surrounding us, as it will be of benefit to this city. All conditions must be favorable in order to operate a smelter successfully, and these conditions actually prevail here. The mines to the south of us need lead or copper and iron for a base in smelting, and a large amount of it, neither of which they have. There is plenty of lead and copper to the north of us and adjacent to the N. C. & O. railway, and as a matter of fact, comparatively nothing is heard of that section today, yet its resources are practically unlimited. There are millions of acres of the finest timber lands; great deposits of lead and copper, and much very fertile agricultural lands, and the next few years will see such activity in that section as was never dreamed of in the history of the west. This country is now penetrated by the Nevada, California and Oregon railway of which T. F. Dunaway is president and general manager. He is an experienced railroad official, having formerly been connected with some of the big railroad corporations, notably the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf, of which he was general superintendent, and his great ability in conducting the affairs of that corporation have given him a reputation of which any railroad officer may be proud, and that, with other responsible positions which he has held, has specially well fitted him for the executive head of a railroad in a country of such wonderful resources which are to be developed.

And again referring to the smelter question, it may be added, that we have water in abundance, lead, copper and iron on the north, vast deposits of rich smelting ore on the south, coal on the east, and we are a railroad center, hence there is no question but a large smelting plant here would be a paying investment.

Truly Nevada is in an era of prosperity, for her resources are unlimited, and the present advent of capital will develop them.

The prosperity of Reno is now guaranteed beyond the most sanguine imagination of her earliest citizens. It is the gate-way to the great resources of the state, and the fine brick blocks already erected, and now in course of construction, attest a perfect public confidence never before experienced, and it is not unreasonable to predict that within two years it will increase to twice its present population.

THE PROFESSOR IS LOSER IN HOT RACE

Professor Winfrey is a sprinter. He demonstrated this fact yesterday by being beaten by one of the students of his school.

The pupil wanted a foot race and the professor accommodated him.

In the presence of an interested group of fellow students, the timer started his stop watch and the exciting race was on. The contestants were evenly matched and the enthusiasm was up to fever pitch, when in an instant the professor somehow got his legs mixed up and his nose made a direct lunge for the ground.

Judging from the looks of the dignified professor's face, his nose made a marked success.

A physician was hastily summoned and the wounds dressed. The invalid is recovering nicely and will practice how to carry his feet before the contest is up again.
